We trust that all mistakes may be forgiven in all charity, since much labor has been taken to insure accuracy in printing the name and residence of each person.

Kindly make it a habit to report to the Clerk of the church change of name or residence of members of the church, deaths, marriages, removals, and whatever is necessary to secure correct records. Historical Sketch.

It is the frequent custom of Christians in the Congregational fellowship, following that instituted by the apostles and first believers, to name their churches after the place in which they are formed. The Shawmut Congregational Church, in its formation, followed the precedent. It was first called the Suffolk Street Union Church, after the street in which its first house of worship stood. The name of this street having been changed to Shawmut Avenue, the name of the church was changed also.

The meaning of the aboriginal Indian name Sha-um-ut (Shawmut), according to the best recent authorities, means "Near the Neck;" that is, the little strip of land adjacent to the present Haymarket Square, which has long been obliterated by filling in. The term does not refer to the Boston or Roxbury Neck of American History, but was applied to a natural feature of the landscape which only the earlier generations of white people saw. In the title "Shawmut Congregational Church," there are thus happily united three languages, Algonkin, Latin, and Greek,—aboriginal, ecclesiastical, and biblical words.

The town of Boston, in Massachusetts, was founded by Englishmen, from both the eastern and western counties of England, and named after St. Botolph's town in Lincolnshire. Its historic portion lay in what is now called "The North End," then a peninsula, with a very narrow neck. It did not become a city until 1827. Most of the area of the modern municipality, as we of to-day know it, was, like Moses, drawn out of the water; since the finest parts of the city have been made on filled-up marshes or water-courses, of earth brought from the hills in and back of Boston. Most of the space south and west of the Common was, until recent years, marsh, waste, or overflowed land.

In the space west of Washington Street, and around Dedham and Canton Streets, a village of frame houses, wholly isolated from the city, had sprung up, in which as early as 1836 a Sunday-school was started. This enterprise lived an uncertain and sickly life for about two years. In January, 1842, a cottage prayer-meeting was begun by members of the Pine Street Church, which was so well attended, that on February 10th the hall at the corner of Canton Street and Suffolk Street (as Shawmut Avenue was then called) was engaged, and union meetings were held. Sunday-evening services with preaching were begun on May 29th. The city pastors gave their warm sympathy and aid, and good results followed. Impressed with the fine prospects, the City Missionary Society built a wooden chapel, of dimensions sixty by forty feet, which was dedicated on Sunday evening, July 13, 1845, the sermon being preached by the Rev. J. H. Towne. A Sunday-school was begun August 3d. "The Suffolk Street Union Church" was formed November 20, 1845, with fifty members; two deacons, Joseph Johnson and Albert Day; the pastor, Rev. George A. Oviatt, who was also agent of the City Missionary Society, which paid half his salary, the church securing the other half. Of the members, twenty were men, and thirty women; and of these, forty-five brought their letters from other churches. The installation sermon was by the Rev. Nehemiah Adams. During Mr. Oviatt's ministry, which lasted until March 28, 1849, this household of faith was increased by the addition of seventy-one names to the roll of membership; nineteen of these making their first confession of Christ.

The congregation, now largely augmented from the increasing population, felt able to sever their connection with the City Missionary Society, and to stand alone. "The Shawmut Congregational Society" was organized according to the laws of Massachusetts, April 4, 1849; and one month later "The Suffolk Street Union Church" took its present name, "The Shawmut Congregational Church." The Rev.

William Cowper Foster, who was called to the pastorate, began his earnest and fruitful ministry October 25, 1849. He resigned, on account of ill health, after a little over two years, during which time sixteen Christians united with the church by letter, and twenty-six persons repented of sin and believed the gospel, as evidenced by their confession of Christ.

By this time the chapel had been outgrown, and in January, 1851, steps were taken to secure a larger edifice. After much detailed labor, the corner-stone of the new building on the west side of Shawmut Avenue, between Brookline and Canton Streets (now occupied by the Shawmut Avenue Universalist Church), was laid, October 8, 1851. The Rev. Messrs. William C. Foster, E. N. Kirk, G. W. Blagden, Edward Beecher, Andrew L. Stone, and A. C. Thompson, took assigned parts in the ceremonies. Worship in the lecture-room began February 29, 1852, and on the 18th of November the edifice was dedicated, and thenceforth the main auditorium used.

The Rev. Charles Smith was called, October 25th, and installed pastor of the church, Dec. 8, 1853. He served the church until Nov. 8, 1858. During his ministry one hundred and ninety-eight names were added to the church-roll. Already the capacity of the meeting-house was taxed to hold comfortably the people who flocked to Shawmut Church. A great change for the better had come over the neighborhood. The "South End" of the city was being laid out in handsome streets, parks, and squares, and built up rapidly with long rows of beautiful houses. Population doubled and trebled its numbers in a short time, and the period just before the great Civil War was one of vast promise to the "South End." A stable, cultivated, and well-to-do populace began to fill Shawmut Avenue, Tremont Street, Columbus Avenue, and the cross streets with homes and families. As a consequence, the pressure upon the seating capacity of Shawmut Church was soon greater than it could bear.

On the 14th of June, 1860, the church and society, by a unanimous and enthusiastic vote, called to their pastorate the Rev. Edwin B. Webb, of Augusta, Maine. He accepted, and was installed October 5th, Rev. Professor Shepherd, of Bangor, preaching the sermon.

With the name of Doctor Webb, the best fortunes, the almost uninterrupted prosperity, fragrant name, liberality in benevolence, and vast results for good of Shawmut Church, are inseparably connected and rightly associated. Hence, it seems appropriate that some sketch of his life should appear in this, the fourth Manual of Shawmut Church. We therefore outline the facts of his eminent career.

Edwin Bonaparte Webb was born in Newcastle, Maine, in 1820. He lived on a farm until manhood, strengthening a naturally vigorous frame. He was also engaged in a store; but when customers were absent the Algebra and the Latin reader, kept under a pile of cotton goods, were taken out, and afforded companionship and occupation. Having chosen the ministry as his life-work, he entered Lincoln Academy, and, later, Bowdoin College, from which he was graduated in 1846. After a year spent in teaching, he entered Bangor Theological Seminary, enjoying for three years the instruction of Professors Shepherd, Pond, and Smith. Called to the pastorate before graduation, he nevertheless insisted on a further course of study at Princeton, N. J., and there spent several months, appreciating especially the lectures and personal influence of Professors Hodge and Alexander. After ten happy and successful years in Augusta, he began his ministry in Boston, just before the great war for the Union.

The congregation of Shawmut Church voted, Jan. 19, 1863, to erect a new meeting-house, and ground was broken for the present commodious house of worship, Feb. 10, 1863. The corner-stone was laid June 17, 1864, and the house dedicated to the worship of Almighty God, Feb. 11, 1864. During all this time the war was the one great topic, enlisting the sympathies and energies of the people. In addition to great pastoral and pulpit labors, Dr. Webb was deeply interested in the details of the edifice.

In this year, also, the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon the pastor of Shawmut Church by Williams College; an honor repeated by his Alma Mater, Bowdoin College, a few years later.

Soon after coming to Boston, he was chosen a member of the Executive Committee of the Massachusetts Home Missionary Society,—a position which, with slight interruption, he has held ever since. He has traveled frequently and extensively through the West, and up and down the Pacific coast, from Southern California to the British Provinces, with the cause of home missions on his heart. The results of the great Civil War in consolidating the American Union, imposed new and greater obligations upon Christian people of the North. Millions of freedmen were to be educated, and prepared to discharge the duties of citizenship. Dr. Webb felt the necessities of the hour, and plead frequently and earnestly for the home missionary cause, and with marked success. For several years the wealthy congregation of Shawmut Church was first in contributions of money to the Home Missionary Society.

In 1876 he was elected a member of the Prudential Committee of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, having previously visited the missionaries generally in Egypt, Palestine, Syria, Asia Minor, Constantinople, Athens, etc. This work affords much satisfaction, but requires time, consideration, and patience.

As a preacher, Dr. Webb loved to dwell upon the distinguishing doctrines of Christianity. He was fond of studying and presenting, with the lessons they teach, the historic scenes and incidents of the Bible. Often did he pour forth, with great volume and glowing affection, the invitations, warnings, and entreaties of the gospel. Aided by the eminent social qualities and magnetic personality of his devoted wife, his personal influence was powerful in the church and city. Nearly five hundred names of those who for the first time confessed Christ, were added to the church-roll of membership during his long and successful ministry. In seasons of revival, he was especially active in manifold labors. In councils called by the churches, he has been, and is, a conspicuous and working member.

In the latter years of his pastorate Dr. Webb was assisted in his labors by the Rev. Messrs. Robert West and H. H. Kelsey; the former for less than a year, and the latter from September 1, 1882, until July, 1884. He resigned on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his entering upon the pastorate of Shawmut Church, October 4, 1885, preaching his farewell sermon November 15th. At a meeting of the church and society, November 10th, he was declared pastor emeritus.

In parting, Dr. Webb left not only his benediction, but also his library, consisting of several hundred volumes, mostly of theological literature.

Still in vigor of body and mind, Dr. Webb resides at Wellesley, Mass., with his wife and surviving daughter. Preaching nearly every Sunday, an active member of missionary boards and councils, full of zeal and gifts, there seem many years of usefulness yet remaining to him before his obituary is written or a summary of his life-work can be given.

The fifth, and present, pastor of Shawmut Church, Wm. Elliot Griffis, was born in Philadelphia, September 17, 1843. He received Christian nurture in the First Independent Church of Philadelphia, Rev. John Chambers, pastor, and confessed faith in Christ at the age of fourteen; united, by letter, with the Second Reformed Church of Philadelphia, the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, pastor, in 1863. Under a private tutor, prepared for Rutgers College, entering September, 1865, and graduating in June, 1869. After traveling in Europe, entered the theological seminary of the Reformed Church at New Brunswick, N. J., spending one year. On the invitation of the daimio of Echizen, approved by the Japanese Government, he was appointed by the Faculty of Rutgers College to go to Japan to organize schools on the American plan; spent nearly four years, from December 29, 1870 to August, 1874, in the government educational service, one year in Fukui, in Echizen, and nearly three years in the capital, Tokio, witnessing the organization of the first Christian churches, and of the national system of education with public schools now numbering nearly forty thousand in daily operation. Returning to the United States, he spent two years in study at the Union Theological Seminary, New York City, richly enjoying the acquaintance and stimulus of such professors as William Adams, Henry Boynton Smith, Roswell D. Hitchcock, Philip Schaff, Charles A. Briggs, Talbot W.

Chambers, and George L. Prentiss. Was licensed by the Manhattan Congregational Association and the Classis of Schenectady. Was installed pastor of the First Reformed Church of Schenectady, June 1, 1877. Married, June 17, 1879, Katharine Lyra, daughter of the late Prof. Benj. I. Stanton, of Union College. Was awarded the honorary degree of D.D. by Union College, June, 1883; received the call from Shawmut Church, March 3, 1886, and was installed pastor, April 15th. He found, as might have been expected from the record of his predecessor and of the people of Shawmut Church, a well-organized body of Christians, ready and willing to do the Lord's work, and to second the labors of his ministers.

During all the years of their history, the people of Shawmut Church have dwelt together in unity and harmony, which, under God, is the secret of strength and beauty. May pastors and people, in entering upon the future, which is known only to the All-seeing One, ever pray as Solomon of old prayed in the temple of Jehovah in Jerusalem. That prayer, engraven on our city's seal, and which the writer had carved in letters of gold on the stone arch of the door of his former church, in the tongue of Holland, is this:—

"Sicut patribus sit Deus nobis."

"De Heere onse Godt zy met ons gelyckt als hy geweest is met onse vaderen."

"The Lord our God be with us, as he was with our fathers" (1 Kings viii. 57).

ECCLESIASTICAL PRINCIPLES AND RULES.

I. Rights of the Church.—This church is independent, so far as relates to its internal organization and the regulation of its affairs. It is amenable to no other ecclesiastical body, except by its own consent, or according to regular and established Congregational principles. With these exceptions, it controls the admission, discipline, and removal of its members according to its own understanding of the Word of God.

II. Connection with other Churches.—This church will extend to other evangelical Congregational churches, and receive from them, that fellowship, advice, and assistance which the law of Christ requires. It will extend the usual rights of communion, and practice a mutual transfer of members, according to its own convictions of duty. It holds itself bound to regard the decisions of regular mutual councils, and to seek the promotion of peace with all the churches of our Lord.

III. Transfer of Members.—The church will examine those who apply for admission from other churches.

☞ It is expected that members of other churches who may wish to commune with this church for more than one year, will request a removal of their connection to us, unless they give satisfactory reasons for delay to the Examining Committee.

Members who remove to other places, or worship and commune with other churches, are required to procure letters of dismission and recommendation from this church within one year from the time of leaving us, unless for further delay they shall satisfy the Examining Committee.

Appended to every letter of dismission is a blank certificate, to be filled and returned to us after the person shall have united with another church. No member will be considered discharged until this certificate, properly filled out, has been returned to the Clerk. Application for letters of dismission (see blank form on last page) should in every case be in writing, and will lay over one week after presented for final action.

IV. Annual Report of Membership.—It shall be the duty of the Clerk, with a committee of three, to be annually appointed, to report to the church at the annual meeting the names of all its members, indicating the additions, dismissions, deaths, excommunications, or suspensions; also the names of such members as have changed their place of residence or worship, and the time absent.

V. Rights of Members.—Every member has a right to church-privileges, unless forfeited by misconduct; and when thus forfeited, he can be deprived of them only by regular process. When accused, he has a right to know the explicit charges, and to have an open and candid hearing. No vote of censure shall be passed upon any member except by the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present at a regular meeting.

VI. Duties of the Church and its Members.—It is the duty of the church and its members to consult and seek the concurrence of their pastor in matters of discipline and internal regulations. It is the duty of the members to attend such stated meetings as are appointed by the church, unless providentially prevented. Any member having cause of complaint against another, should immediately seek to have it removed in a Christian manner, as directed in Matt. xviii. 15, 16, 17. Any member wishing to withdraw from this to another church, should signify his wishes and his reasons, and apply in a proper spirit to be first released from his obligations to this church. Any other mode of withdrawing will be deemed irregular and censurable.

VII. Censurable Offenses.—This church considers immoral conduct, breach of express covenant vows, neglect of acknowledged religious or relative duties, and avowed disbelief of the articles of faith to which the members have assented, as offenses subject to the censure of the church.

VIII. Censures.—The censures inflicted on offenders are; private reproof, public admonition, suspension from church-privileges, or excommunication, according to the aggravation of the offense.

IX. This church will not hold itself responsible for watch and care over members who absent themselves from its service and communion, and fail to report, for a period of five years; but will cease at the expiration of that time to count or return them, and will mark their names on the general list as "unreported absentees."

X. After proper efforts have been made for the recovery of such members as have voluntarily absented themselves from our service and communion for a period of three years, the church may vote to dismiss them by withdrawing watch and fellowship.

XI. Permanent Officers.— The permanent officers of this church are the pastor or the pastors and six deacons. The pastor shall be a member of this church, and to him pertains the office of moderator. No person shall hold the office of deacon more than six years without a re-election. At every annual meeting there shall be an election of one deacon; it being understood that the term of one incumbent shall expire annually, according to seniority of appointment. It shall be the duty of the deacons to preside in the absence of the pastor, to assist in the administration of the Lord's Supper, and to aid the pastor generally in the spiritual care of the flock, and in his absence to provide a supply for the pulpit.

XII. Annual Officers and Standing Committees.— At the Annual Meeting for business, the following and all other necessary officers shall be chosen for the ensuing year: First, a Clerk, who shall keep a record of the church; second, a Treasurer, who shall take charge of all moneys collected by the church for religious and benevolent purposes, forward the same to their specific objects, and make a written report of the same at the Annual Meeting; third, an Examining Committee, of which the pastor, deacons, and clerk shall constitute a part, who shall examine all applicants for admission, and present a written report of the names of such as they approve, also to act as a Committee of Inquiry and Discipline; fourth, two Auditors, whose duty it shall be to audit the Treasurer's accounts, and report thereon, at the Annual Meeting; fifth, a Committee of six Collectors, of whom the Treasurer shall be chairman.

XIII. Officers of the Sabbath and Mission Schools.— There shall be chosen at the Annual Meeting such officers as the church, from time to time, shall decide to be necessary for the proper management of the Sabbath and mission schools; and the church shall furnish such means as their interests may require.

XIV. Committee of the Sabbath-Schools.— There shall be chosen annually a committee of not exceeding five, who shall exercise a general supervisory care over the interests of the Sabbath and mission schools, not involving interference with the appropriate duties of the superintendents or teachers; and shall visit the schools at least once a month, to afford any advice or assistance that may seem proper; and shall, in connection with the superintendents and the pastor, devise such ways and means as may be deemed expedient for replenishing the library, and meeting such other expenses as may not have been provided for by the annual appropriation of the church; and render such assistance in all respects as the interests of the schools demand.

XV. Report on Sabbath Schools.—The superintendents, with the committee of the Sabbath-schools, shall make in each year, at the Annual Meeting of the Church, a report containing a condensed statement of the condition of the Sabbath and mission schools during the year, the number of teachers and scholars in each school, average attendance, the subjects taught or question-books used, the number of conversions in the schools during the year, the number of volumes in the library, the amount of money contributed in the schools and the disposition thereof, and such other facts or suggestions as in their opinion may indicate the condition and prospects of the schools.

XVI. Delegates to Councils and Conferences.—Whenever the church is to be represented in councils or conferences, delegates, primary and substitute, shall be elected, who shall report their doings at the Friday evening meeting next succeeding the termination of the council or conference.

XVII. Offices Vacated.— When any officer of the church shall cease regularly to worship with us, the church may declare his office vacated.

XVIII. Approval of Records.—The Examining Committee shall, at its first meeting after each communion, examine the records of the doings of the church for the two months preceding said meeting, and, if found correct, shall approve them; and the chairman shall, after the last entry examined by them, write "Approved," and sign his name as chairman.

XIX. Standing Rules.—1. All meetings for business shall be opened with prayer.

2. The Annual Meeting for the choice of officers and standing committees shall be in January, at such times as the pastors and deacons shall appoint.

3. All officers and standing committees, except the Committee of Collectors, shall be chosen by ballot.

4. Candidates for admission are to stand propounded to the church at least three weeks; and notice shall be given to the congregation of such as are expected to make a profession, at least two weeks previous to admission.

5. All persons admitted to the church shall be required to sign our Confession of Faith and Covenant.

6. The church will observe the sacrament of the Lord's Supper on the first Sabbath of each alternate month; viz., January, March, May, July, September, and November.

7. At each communion season a contribution shall be taken, to be appropriated for indigent members of the church and for incidental expenses, under the direction of the deacons.

8. Expenses of pastor and delegates attending ecclesiastical councils, may be defrayed by the church out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise specifically appropriated.

9. The church meets on Friday evening for devotional exercises and religious conference, to promote growth in Christian knowledge and grace, and for the transaction of any business which may properly come before it.

XVIII. Alterations.—No alterations shall be made in the foregoing principles and rules, unless at a regular meeting of the church, such having been proposed at the next regular meeting previous, and by a vote of three fourths of the members present.

CREED AND COVENANT.

ADDRESS.

BELOVED FRIENDS,—You have presented yourselves before God and this assembly to make a solemn confession of your religious faith, and to take upon you the bonds of the everlasting covenant. We trust that you have duly considered the nature of the profession you are about to make,—the most solemn and momentous in which a mortal can engage,—and that, by divine grace, you will walk in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

Having examined and assented to the articles of faith adopted by this church, you will now profess the same before these witnesses.

CONFESSION OF FAITH.

ARTICLE 1.—We believe there is one only living and true God, the Creator, Preserver, and Governor of the universe; a being self-existent and immutable, infinite in power, wisdom, justice, goodness, truth, and mercy.

ART. 2.—We believe that the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments were given by inspiration of God; that they contain a complete and harmonious system of divine truth, and are the only perfect rule of Christian faith and practice.

ART. 3.—We believe that God is revealed in the Scriptures as the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, and that these three are one, and in all divine attributes equal.

ART. 4.—We believe that God made all things for himself; that he governs all things according to his unchangeable counsel; and that the principles and administration of his government are perfectly holy, just, and good.

ART. 5.—We believe our first parents were originally holy; that they fell from that perfect state by sinning against God; and that, in consequence of their apostasy, all mankind are by nature without holiness, and alienated from God, until their hearts are renewed by the Holy Spirit.

ART. 6.—We believe that Christ, being God manifest in the flesh, has, by his sufferings and death, made an atonement for sin, so that whosoever believeth in him shall not perish, but have eternal life. But such is the aversion of man to the terms of salvation, that none comply with them without the special influences of the Holy Spirit.

ART. 7.—We believe that those who repent of sin and embrace the gospel were chosen in Christ before the foundation of the world; that they should become heirs of eternal life through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth; that nothing can separate true believers from the love of God, but that they will be kept by his power through faith unto salvation.

ART. 8.—We believe that in this world the Lord Jesus Christ has a visible Church; the terms of membership in which are repentance toward God and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ; and that a conscientious attendance upon public, family, and private worship, and the habitual practice of righteousness, temperance, sobriety, and truth, are essential to Christian character.

ART. 9.—We believe that the sacraments of the New Testament are Baptism and the Lord's Supper: Baptism to be administered only to covenanting believers and their households; and the Supper only to members of the visible Church in regular standing.

ART. 10.—We believe there will be a general resurrection of the bodies, both of the just and the unjust, and a day of judgment; when all must give account to Christ of the deeds done in the body; when the impenitent will go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into life eternal.

THE COVENANT.

IN the presence of God, his holy angels, and this assembly, you do now solemnly avouch the Lord Jehovah — Father, Son, and Holy Ghost — to be your God, the object of your supreme affection, and your portion forever. You cordially acknowledge the Lord Jesus Christ in all his mediatorial offices,— Prophet, Priest, and King,— as your only Saviour, and the Holy Spirit as your Sanctifier, Comforter, and Guide. You humbly and cheerfully devote yourselves to God in the everlasting covenant of his grace, consecrating all your powers and faculties to his service and glory; and you promise, that, through the assistance of his Spirit, you will cleave to him as your chief good; that you will give diligent attendance to his Word and ordinances; that you will seek the honor and interest of his kingdom; and that henceforth, denying all ungodliness and every worldly lust, you will live soberly, righteously, and godly in the world. You also join yourselves to this church, engaging to submit to the rules of ecclesiastical government and discipline which it has adopted; to strive earnestly for its peace, edification, and purity; and to walk with its members in charity, faithfulness, circumspection, meekness, and sobriety.

This you severally profess and engage.

In consequence of these professions and engagements, we (the members of this church) affectionately receive you to our communion, and in the name of Christ declare you entitled to all its privileges: we welcome you to this fellowship with us in the blessings of the gospel, and on our part engage to watch over you, and seek your edification, so long as you continue with us.

And now, beloved in the Lord, you have assumed solemn obligations from which you can never escape. Wherever you go, these vows will be upon you: they will follow you to the bar of God, and abide upon you through eternity. You have entered into a covenant with God, from which no created being can ever release you; neither shall any separate you from the rewards of its faithful observance.

Hereafter the eyes of the world will be upon you, and as you demean yourself, so religion will be honored or dishonored. If you walk worthily of your profession, you will be a credit and a comfort to us; but if otherwise, you will be an occasion of grief and reproach. But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things which accompany salvation, though we thus speak.

May the Lord guide and preserve you till death, and at last receive you and us to that blessed world where our love and joy shall be forever perfect! Amen.

MITE SOCIETY.

THIS Society was formed in February, four years ago, nine children being present. The membership is now sixty-five. Each member has a mite-box, into which he promises to put one or more cents weekly; the boxes are opened in March, June, and November, at the regular meetings. These meetings are held on the second Friday of every month except July, August, and September, at half-past four o'clock.

The first year the Society paid $80 to the Woman's Home Missionary Society, to which it belongs; the second year, $70; the third year, $100; and last year, $94. The payment of one dollar constitutes any one a life member, and these fees, with a little sale or entertainment in addition to the cash in the mite-boxes, have given us the money we have paid to the Woman's Home Missionary Association.

The Shawmut Branch Sunday-School, originally called "The Kitchen Sunday-School," was commenced Dec. 11, 1859, by Mrs. Sarah S. Paul (afterward Mrs. Munger), a missionary of the City Missionary Society. It met at No. 439 Harrison Avenue, in the kitchen of a poor woman. Fourteen children were present at the first session.

On the first Sunday in January, 1861, "two parlors" in house No. 48 Malden Street were occupied by the school; and on the 31st of March following, the school was transferred to a carpenter's shop on Harrison Avenue.

In 1865, the Shawmut Church and Society erected a chapel at 642 Harrison Avenue, and here the school has since had a comfortable and commodious home. Within a year the chapel has been enlarged and improved, at a cost of $6,376.82.

The City Missionary Society established preaching services in this chapel in the spring of 1873, and has continued them to the present time.

During the past year the average attendance at services on Sunday was 275, on week-days 179, while the aggregate attendance at all services was 28,352. The average attendance at the Sunday-school was 281, its present membership being 424. The amount of money raised for all purposes was $1,209.69.
